A LIST OF THE GOVERNORS AND COMMANDERS-IN-CHIEF

OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE, FROM ITS FIRST SETTLEMENT.

[New-Hampshire was first settled in 1628, by Edward and William Hilton, brothers, from London, and David Thompson, from Scotland. During the first 18 years after the settlement, the people in the several Plantations were governed by Agents appointed by the Proprietors, or by magistrates chosen by themselves. In 1641, they became united to Massachusetts, and so continued until 1680, when New-Hampshire became a Royal Province; and, excepting an interregnum from 1689 to 1692, when the people again put themselves under the protection of Massachusetts, continued a provincial government until the Revolution. Massachusetts was made a Province in 1692, and the same Governor was over that and New-Hampshire, from 1699 till 1741, when a separate governor of New-Hampshire was appointed, and all connection with Massachusetts ceased.]

POLITICAL AND MUNICIPAL.

In preparing the following list of Town Officers, great pains have been taken to render it as perfect and complete as possible. The vote for the highest candidates on the Van Buren and Harrison tickets, at the Presidential Election in November, 1840, and the vote for the two highest candidates for Governor, in March, 1841, are set against the names of the respective towns, as copied from the official returns in the office of the Secretary of State.

The whole number of votes polled in the State for Electors of President and Vice President, Nov. 2, 1840, was 414,386, of which, 872, principally for the abolition ticket, were estimated as scattering. Correcting the clerical errors of the town clerks of Northumberland and Society Land, the number of votes cast for each of the several candidates upon the Van Buren and Harrison tickets was as follows: Van Buren ticket—John W. The Asylum is located on an elevation about half a mile south-westerly of the State House, in Concord, and is designed, and will be finished, upon a plan highly creditable to the State. It is of excellent brick, upon a superstructure of granite, having a centre building 48 by 44 feet, four stories in height above the basement, and two wings, each 90 by 36 feet, three stories above the basement—the whole constituting a continuous and elegant pile 228 feet in length. The centre building is designed for the occupation of the superintendant's family, and for dining rooms for the patients, while the wings will contain 120 rooms for the accommodation of that number of unfortunate insane. The basement, constructed externally of granite, is divided into numerous large and commodious apartments, affording the most ample and convenient accommodations for cookery and storage, and the whole edifice throughout is to be warmed from furnaces constructed in it. The roofs are to be slated. It is expected that the exterior building will be completed by the 1st of November, 1841, and the institution be ready for the reception of patients in one year from that time. About 120 acres of land have been purchased for the use of the Asylum. Estimated expense of land and buildings, $22,000.

N. H. STATE PRISON—at Concord.

Warden, Lawson Coolidge.
Deputy Warden, Luther C. Pilsbury.
Chaplain, Rev. Edmund Worth.
Physician, Ezra Carter, M. D.

Number of convicts in confinement, April 30, 1841, 84—received during the year, 28—discharged 20, of whom 13 were discharged by expiration of sentence, and 7 were pardoned by the executive—died, 2—under sentence for life, 10. Income of the prison from Sept. 1, 1840, to April 30, 1841, $4,902,02; expenditures during the same period, $4,261,90. Good order and discipline prevail throughout the establishment; the prisoners generally enjoy excellent health, and their moral condition is favorably represented. The appearance, both internal and external, of the prison and adjacent yards, has greatly improved within the past year. A portion of the convicts, 20 in number, are at present employed upon contract, at blacksmith work, and an equal number at cabinet work. For each day's services of these prisoners, the contractors pay the State 40 cents. Of the remaining convicts, the greater part are engaged in shoe-making and stone-cutting.

[The road has been located, and the route found to be highly favorable.]

The Nashua and Lowell Rail-road extends from Nashua Village to Lowell, Mass., a distance of about 15 miles, being a prolongation of the Boston and Lowell Rail-road. It was opened to public use, Oct. 25, 1838. Up to Jan. 23, 1839, there had been expended upon the work, $285,052,26. It passes along the right side of the Merrimack, through the towns of Tyngsborough and Dunstable.

The Boston and Maine Rail-road commences at the line of the State, 3 1-2 miles from the village of Haverhill, Mass., and passes through the towns of Plaistow, Newtown, Kingston, East Kingston, Exeter, Durham, Madbury, Dover, and Somersworth, to the line of Maine, 34 1-2 miles. From Wilmington, 14 1-2 miles from Boston, where it branches off from the Boston and Lowell Rail-road, to the line of New-Hampshire, at Haverhill, 33 1-2 miles from Boston, this road is known by the name of the Boston and Portland Rail-road. From the line of New-Hampshire it is expected to pass through the most important interior towns to Portland, and ultimately to Bangor, Me. It is already opened to Dover, the cars having commenced running from Dover to Boston about the 1st of September, 1841. Expenditures to June, 1841, $347,085,78.

The Eastern Rail-road in New-Hampshire, extends from the line of Massachusetts, at Newburyport, through Seabrook, Hampton Falls, Hampton, North Hampton, Greenland, Rye, and Portsmouth, to the line of Maine, about 20 miles. It was opened to public use in 1840, from Newburyport to Portsmouth, as well as from Salem to Newburyport. That portion between Boston and Salem was opened for travel in 1839. It passes from the northerly part of Boston, by the steam-ferry, to East Boston, and thence through Chelsea and Lynn, 14 miles, to Salem. It was originally designed to continue this road along the seaboard of Maine to Portland, and thence ultimately to Bangor, but we understand it is now proposed to pass from Portsmouth up the valley of the Piscataqua to Dover, and thence on the contemplated route of the Boston and Maine road. Expenditures to June, 1841, about $280,000.

The Concord Rail-road extends from Nashua, up the valley of the Merrimack, 34 miles, to Concord. The work is under contract, and in process of construction, the whole distance, and it is expected that it will be completed as far as Goffs' Falls, near Manchester, before Jan. 1, 1842. The greatest inclination in the grade per mile, from Concord to Nashua, is 23 feet; entire descent, 116 1-2 feet. Estimated expense for the entire completion of the road, right of way, and necessary furniture, $550,000; in which is included the estimated cost of twice crossing the Merrimack on bridges, once at Goffs' Falls, and again at Hooksett. The construction of these bridges will necessarily delay the completion of the work until probably the latter part of 1842.

COMMON SCHOOLS IN N. H.

By the existing laws of New Hampshire, 100,000 dollars is annually assessed for the support of free schools, in addition to the annual distribution of about 10,000 dollars literary fund, and the sums raised by the several school districts for the building and repairing of school-houses. Consequently, these schools are very numerous, and their blessings almost universally participated. According to the report of the United States' Marshal, the number of schools in the state in June, 1840, was 2,110, with 81,890 scholars; while, of the whole population of the state over twenty years of age, there were only 927 who could not read and write.

GEOLOGY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

By an act of the Legislature passed June 24, 1839, the sum of two thousand dollars annually, for three years, was appropriated to defray the expenses of a geological and mineralogical survey of the state. On the 10th of September, 1839, under the provisions of this act, Dr. Charles T. Jackson, of Boston, was appointed, by the Governor, State Geologist, and on the 7th of December, 1840, J. D. Whitney, of Boston, Assistant Geologist.

Dr. Jackson entered upon the duties of the survey in 1840, and his first annual report was made to the Legislature in June, 1841, of which 1000 copies were printed for the use of the state. In this report, some of the most prominent and remarkable geological and mineralogical features of the state only are noticed; the particular details of facts and the results of chemical analyses being reserved for a subsequent publication.

If this survey shall be prosecuted and completed with a fidelity at all commensurate with the liberal and enlightened design of the act authorizing it, its results will be alike honorable to the wisdom of the Legislature, and beneficial to the interests of the whole people of New Hampshire.

STATE EXPENDITURES IN N. H.

According to the annual report of the Treasurer, New Hampshire owed, June 1, 1841, the sum of 20,000 dollars, for cash borrowed to defray the expenses of the government during the year just closed, and owned stock in the New Hampshire Bank to the amount of 10,000 dollars. The total expenditures, for the year ending June 1, 1841, were $84,228 20, as follows: Salaries of public officers during the year, $17,235 24; pay and mileage of Council, Senate and House of Representatives, $35,501 80; appropriations for State Prison, $10,534 81; for blind, $1,125 00; for deaf and dumb, $1,275; military appropriations, $4,088 70; bounties for killing wolves, &c., $1,814 75; appropriations for Geological Survey, $2439 00; printing and other expenses not included in the foregoing, $6,138 79 cts.
